

PORTAVO

AN IRISH TOWNLAND AND ITS PEOPLES

PETER CARR

PART TWO: THE FAMINE TO THE PRESENT

The butler hid under the table with a poker when Ker visited Delacherois at Donaghadee.

The hungry gather under the porch at Montalto. The Ker's response was, apparently, to remove the porch.

Couples danced to music from a fiddler 'of the most grotesque appearance' on the completion of the joint drainage project