

Tomkins, Sean

Sean Tomkins has been exhibiting his photographs of Ireland with us for some years now. Sean is an acclaimed, award winning, professional landscape photographer from Galway City. Sean is a self-taught photographer and uses his native Galway as inspiration for his wonderful images. There are many prints of his much loved Connemara and Counties Mayo, Clare and Kerry, and he uses the changing light and dramatic landscapes to create such diverse images. Sean has been a long-time member of the Galway Camera Club and has won many competitions and awards. He lives in Galway with his wife and 2 children. All images © Sean Tomkins.
